

EDUCATION, INVENTION & DEVELOPMENT

EDUCATIONAL WORKSHOPS

Philip Watson offers effective educational workshops to museums and galleries, focusing on current/upcoming exhibitions and displays.

About the Workshops

Taking inspiration from your current/upcoming events, we tailor-make activities for schools, children and parents in order to provide a relevant, engaging and memorable experience.

Workshops are held at your institution, and can take a variety of forms. The outcome can be objects or displays for participants to take away with them, or simply a clearer and more interesting view of the work in the exhibition.

All age ranges and group sizes can be catered for, as well as parent participation.

About Philip Watson

Several years experience as a Design & Technology teacher in south London leaves Philip Watson extremely well placed to design, coordinate and deliver these workshops.

The Barbican Art Centre enjoys the tailored, professional approach employed by Philip Watson. For details of upcoming workshops run by Philip Watson at the Barbican go to:

www.barbican.org.uk/education/event-detail.asp?ID=10159

Costs

One-off consultation & set-up fee	Each morning w/shop (10am-12.30pm)	Each afternoon w/shop (1.30pm-3pm)	Each full-day w/shop (10am-3pm)
£150	£200	£200	£350

Availability and Booking

Please contact mail@philipwatson.co.uk to arrange a meeting to discuss your needs.